This book addresses a crucial need for parents, educators and children affected by Asperger's Syndrome (AS). In clear, simple and solid terms the authors focus on the impact of AS in middle school and high school. Most important for those who are parents of AS children, it integrates specific classroom and support strategies.

'Asperger syndrome' was introduced to the world by British psychiatrist Lorna Wing in the 1980s. The term derives from a 1944 study by Austrian paediatrician Hans Asperger (new evidence about his problematic history has recently been revealed and provoked a big debate). Many people who fit the profile for Asperger syndrome are now being ...

I have recently completed reading "Asperger's Syndrome and Adolescence: Practical Solutions for School Success", by Brenda Smith Miles and Diane Adreon. I found the book to be informative, and written so clearly that it may be recommended to parents, while thorough enough that it is of use to professionals both for its insight into the syndrome and its practical solutions.

The Asperger's Association of New England (AANE) has been offering the Partner/Spouse Support Groups and the Couples' Support Groups for about ten years. Since most of the couples we see consist of a neurotypical woman married to or partnered with a man with AS, in this article I will often speak of "the wife" (understood to be NT) and "the husband" (understood to have AS).
